

Mamou-Mani Ltd is a new kind of architectural practice specialising in digitally-designed and fabricated architecture, custom products and interfaces. We now also offer Parametric Consultancy and Designs for the Metaverse.

We can design, make and create at our own fabrication facility, FabPub.

We believe in innovation, and work with clients all over the world to create unique spaces, pieces, and experiences that inspire the mind and up-lift the soul.

Our ambition is to work with our clients to create sustainable designs that will not only help our planet, but also trigger instant curiosity and awe. This pushes us to constantly innovate using new processes, technologies and biomaterials to revolutionise our environment.

As an award-winning international RIBA chartered practice, our unique approach has given us the opportunity to realise some ambitious visions. We pride ourselves on a collaborative culture that has seen us work with a variety of artists, designers and brands around the world who are courageously redefining their fields.
