

The Iris Ceramica Group with Porcelaingres is a world leader in the design, production and distribution of ceramic surfaces with high technical and aesthetic performance for floors, furnishing elements and interior and exterior cladding for private and public the private and public sectors.

Porcelaingres is the voice of a new ceramic culture as a noble and high-performance material that improves the interaction between people and the environment. Innovation and sustainability have always been the fundamental values that inspire the company and are expressed in the creation of ceramic surfaces that stand out for their technology and aesthetics and carry a profound value: to serve man in full respect of the environment. Porcelaingres combines quality, design and technology with an eye to the future to explore new horizons and open up new ways for ceramics to create better living environments and offer original solutions for aesthetics and design as well as technical performance.
